

ChainMail

ENTERPRISE MESSAGING

Many stores, one communication solution.

ChainMail is specifically designed to address the unique communication requirements of chain pharmacies

Now, more than ever, chain pharmacies need a reliable and secure way to share information with both their stores and employees.

Whether it's important drug recall information, policy updates or schedule changes, ChainMail ensures that all employees are working from the same source of information.

As an extension to the Pharmed Portal, ChainMail eliminates the expense, hassle and security risks associated with email systems in a healthcare environment.

Once a message is sent, ChainMail's real-time dashboard provides continuously updated information on its read status.
